DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 10 is objected to because of the following informalities: it is in conflict with the independent claim, the independent claim 1 states the guide stylet is imparted on the probe and claim 10 states the guide stylet does not impart on the probe tube. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

1. Claims 1- 8, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 5256146 to Ensminger et al.

Ensminger teaches a probe tube, with a tip area, a tip, having an outlet opening, a guide stylet with a curve tip is. The probe is more flexible in the tip are, as well as multiple outlet openings in the tip are. The tube is made form plastic material, and has a termination for connecting the stylet to the tube.

2. Claims 1-8, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S Patent Pub No.2001/0039413 to Bowe.

Bowe teaches a probe tube with tip are, having an outlet opening, a guide stylet 118 with a curve tip are. The probe is inserted in to the patient, inserting the stylet in to the probe, terminations 136, and a spray connector 132.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent NO. 6685648 to Flaherty et al.

Flaherty teaches a probe tube with tip are, having an outlet opening, a guide stylet with a curve tip are. The probe is inserted in to the patient, inserting the stylet in to the probe, terminations and a spray connector.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 14-17 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the process of delivery the probe and stylet to the small intestine is unique, there are many probe and stylet as the applicant has describe them however none of them are used for the intestine.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8-10-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., in flexibility of the wall of the probe and the flexibility of the guide stylet so the shape of the guide stylet is substantially imparted on the tip of the probe tube.) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).
